Swift Move by FBI In Brink's Burglary

Arrest One, Charge One; Find Cannon

NEW YORK (AP) — In swift developments, the FBI arrested one man in the $400,000 Brink's burglary in Syracuse, N.Y., charged another still at large and recovered the cannon used to blast open the vault.

Jack Frank, 33, of Freeport, N.Y., taken into custody by federal agents, was to be arraigned today before a U.S. commissioner in Brooklyn.

His nephew, Joel Singer, 22, of Chorndy, Que., is being sought in the burglary 10 days ago.

They were charged in Albany, N.Y., with conspiracy to violate the statute on interstate transportation of stolen property. The FBI also charged Singer with a violation of the federal firearms act in connection with the transportation of a 20mm antitank gun from Quebec to Syracuse.

The FBI said that it had recovered, with the aid of the Navy and Coast Guard, the antitank gun used in the burglary from waters near the Meadowbrook Parkway bridge to Jones Beach on Long Island.

The developments were announced Monday night in Washington, D.C., by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who said laboratory experts positively identified the cannon as the one used in the burglary.

Police said the Brink's building in Syracuse was broken into the weekend of Oct. 23-24 and thieves fired at least 30 rounds from a 20mm cannon to blast open the vault.

The thieves made off with $416,028 from the vault, including $160,774 in cash and $255,254 in checks.

Frank, a bachelor and a mechanic on Long Island, was arrested Monday night in Garden City, then taken to the FBI office.

Police Chief Testifies In Klan Probe

Reveals Arsenal Find In Auto With 5 Klansmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Georgia police chief testified today he arrested five Ku Klux Klansmen after a cross burning and found an arsenal in their auto.

Chief Leo Blackwell, of Griffin, Ga., told the House Committee on Un-American Activities that the incident occurred April 24, 1964.

The committee was looking also into the activities of Nacirema, Inc., which investigator Philip Manuel described as a Klan offshoot for those who wanted "more violent action." The word is a reverse spelling of American.

Witnesses refused Monday to answer any committee questions about Nacirema, schools on how to handle explosives, or parties at a klavern headquarters near Atlanta. The parties led to the arrest of five Klansmen on charges of maintaining a disorderly house.

Blackwell said after a cross was burned in front of a Negro establishment, he and his men located the two cars that had carried the Klansmen. They were parked near the local klavern headquarters, he said.

Blackwell said he arrested two men in the klavern — he named them as Col. McGriff and Oliver Custis Sanders — and three others later. He identified these three as Allen Bayne, Thomas Royce Carlyle and a John Mitchell.

Blackwell said all were strangers to him and he suggested they were from out of town.

In searching their cars, Blackwell said he uncovered a small arsenal and Klan robes and signs.

Witnesses at the cross burning, Blackwell said, told him that McGriff covered them from one of the cars with a weapon that looked like a tommy gun as the cross was set up and ignited.

Riley, Lueck Promoted

Council Gives Approval For New Lieutenant Rank

By D. Kelly Scruton

A new rank in the police department was created Monday night by the City Council when the recommendation by the Police Personnel Board to appoint a lieutenant was approved. The promotion was for Sgt. Jewel Riley, 522 West Saline.

The Council also accepted the recommendation of the board for the promotion of Frank C. Lueck, 607 East 17th, from Patrolman to Sergeant, and the appointment of two Class C patrolmen for a probationary period — George E. Fleetwood, 522½ South Barrett, and George M. Nix, 309 West Seventh, who will partially fill vacancies created by recent resignations.

Officer Lester Williams, in the department for 14 years, tendered his resignation which was accepted. Chief of Police William E. Miller explained Officer Williams was one of the best patrolmen and had given the city 14 years of faithful service and is retiring with not much more than a thank you and without any benefits or retirement pay from the city. He went on to explain Officer Williams a year ago was injured while making an arrest.

Mayor L. L. Studer remarked, "A pension plan was presented to the people, but they voted it down and not by very much of a majority vote either."

The City Council passed an ordinance making it unlawful for a person or persons to turn in false alarms or reports to either the Police or Fire Departments or to any fireman or policeman, making such violations subject to arrest.

Following the Council meeting, Chief of Police Miller explained the new lieutenant would be the officer in charge of the shift from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. The salary of the new rank will be $375 a month or $25 more than a sergeant. Both Lt. Riley and Sgt. Lueck will assume their new duties on

Expansion Program At Shoe Factory

A new modernization and expansion program for Town and Country Shoes in Sedalia has been started, according to C. W. Mathieson, executive vice-president of the company, with the purchase of the Dan Jarvis building on Benton east of the present T & C factory building.

The Jarvis building provides 5,000 square feet of additional space for Town and Country. The north half of the building was rented from Jarvis three months ago, Mathieson said, where 75 employees have been since working. Now that the building has been purchased about 75 additional people will be employed within a month.

Town and Country has also recently acquired the land between the present factory building and the Jarvis building. Mathieson said that the company is looking forward to developing the whole area adding more manufacturing facilities on this land next summer.

The city, he stated, plans to pave both Benton and Jefferson streets, which will make the area more accessible as these streets are narrow and in very bad condition.

Accident Statistics

The accident total for Sedalia has improved, but the injury and death picture is worse than last year.

That is the situation shown in a compilation of accident and death toll figures recorded to date by local police.

According to the record, there were 605 accidents, 219 injuries and no deaths recorded up to Nov. 1, 1964, and 588 accidents, 181 injuries and four deaths recorded up to Nov. 1 of this year.

For October, 1964, there were 68 accidents, 23 injuries and no deaths recorded, and in October, 1965, there were 67 accidents, nine injuries and one death on the books.

Red Terrorism Spreads to Java

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Communist terrorism spread to the west Java today as the army strove to put down Red violence in the central and eastern areas of the island, Antara news agency reported.

The agency reported the Communists were attacking the homes of non-Communist organization leaders in the west Java area of Tasikmalaya and had desecrated local mosques.

This was the first reported terror activity in west Java, where several Communist party branches earlier dissolved themselves.

Antara also reported a clash in east Java between 500 members of the youth wing of the party and security forces at Dukuh Karanganjar. The agency said one soldier and four rebels were killed and 16 Communist youths were captured.

The situation was still reported serious in central Java. The newspaper API said that at least 450 persons have been killed by terrorists in the Bojolali and Klater areas of central Java.

President Sukarno, in the face of mounting Communist acts of terrorism, belatedly sanctioned Monday martial law that was proclaimed by the army in greater Jakarta and central Java areas.

Processing Plant Opening Set Here

The Central Missouri Processing Company located on Benton just east of Grand, will open on Nov. 15, starting with about 25 employees.

Resulting from the combined efforts of five men in the area, meet a local need, and grow the operation is expected to meet a local need, and grow into a big operation.

The group of men include Elroy Koester, who operates a hatchery at Stover, is a member of the board of directors; Clayton Bryant, president of the company, a grower who has chicken houses located at various places around Warrensburg;

John Innes, Warrensburg, who has a feed mill and will furnish the feed to the growers, is secretary of the organization; The Sedalia Ice Co., is a stockholder with Jack Cunningham treasurer of the new company; and Frank Gerbes, Tipton, a stockholder, who owns a chain of grocery stores in Central Missouri.

The combining of the different phases, the group believes, will be the answer as a marketing center for the area.

The building, located north of the Sedalia Ice plant, is 90x110 feet, and trucks will pull up on the south side and place live chickens on the line outside. They go from there inside to the killer and blood tunnel, into the scalding, on the hanger down one side and up the other, through the automatic pickers, then washed and singed. Passing through another washer they are then transferred to the viscerating line and come on the shackles to the line of women who draw them. They then go to the inspection table, down through the washer and into the chill tank where they stay about 45 minutes. They are then dumped on the table and up the draw line. An automatic sizer will drop them off by weight: two pounds, two and a fourth pounds, two and a half, two and three quarters and three and over. They are then packaged, put in the cooler and out on the shipping dock.

The Council approved the sale to the church. Under the same conditions they would also pay for clearing up title to three lots which go with the park.

The resignation of Mrs. Freida Napier, 211 East Saline, as a member of the Public Library Board was read to the Council by Mayor Studer. Mrs. Napier explained it was impossible for her to attend the meetings. The mayor then presented the name of Mrs. Janet Harris, wife of H. W. Harris, 1001 South Carr, for the unexpired term of Mrs. Napier which ends July 1, 1966. The appointment was approved.

The Council approved a re-

In Building Vast New Store Here

Faith In Sedalia a Key for Safeway

Safeway Company opened its new store in Sedalia Tuesday morning with a breakfast at Sacred Heart Cafeteria at which 120 persons were served. Guests included representatives of industry, business, professions, city officials, councilmen, Chamber of Commerce, news media and others.

Master of ceremonies was Roy Solen, personnel manager, who introduced the speaker, Frank Glasgow, division manager.

Glasgow stated that the Safeway Company felt fortunate in the selection of the site for the new store and to be a part of the downtown area, which is one of the largest shopping centers in Missouri, even larger than the Plaza in Kansas City, for it reaches from Main to Broadway and Washington to Moniteau.

Solen, he said, has confidence in the future of Sedalia and its potential growth. This new store, located at Broadway and Ohio, with 30,000 square feet of space, is the largest in this part of the country. Of the 110 stores the company has, he said, this store is the largest on one floor, and outside of a couple that have basements, it is the largest store.

The speaker stressed the fact that Safeway wants to be a good citizen of this community, that this is what they have strived for in the past, and he felt that the manager, George Moyer, had done a good job representing the company.

Mayor L. L. Studer was then introduced and gave the response.

Also introduced were Carl Yates, Jr., president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Sam Boyle, executive manager of the Chamber.

Air Cavalrymen Kill 99 Reds At Plei Me

Battle 500-600 Cong Over Six-Mile Front

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Continuing a mopup around the bloody Plei Me battleground, U.S. air cavalrymen killed 99 more Communist soldiers Monday and captured 44 others, a U.S. military spokesman announced.

Reports indicated the action was the first real success for the relatively untried 1st Air Cavalry Division, which arrived in Viet Nam Sept. 12.

The cavalrymen fought three separate engagements near the U.S. Special Forces camp at Plei Me, 210 miles north of Saigon. The camp, in South Viet Nam's rugged central highlands, underwent a week-long siege before the Communists were routed last week.

The air borne troops have been mopping up since.

In the first encounter, the Americans maintained contact for eight hours with a Viet Cong force of between 500 and 600 men over a six-mile stretch. The enemy toll was 97 killed and 37 captured.

In a six-hour sweep of a village about 20 miles northwest of Plei Me, the cavalrymen killed two guerrillas and captured seven.

The spokesman said North Vietnamese regulars were among those killed and captured.

Elsewhere, the spokesman reported, Viet Cong mortar crews fired several rounds at the U.S. Marine helicopter base near Marble Mountain, in the Da Nang area 380 miles northeast of Saigon. None of the rounds hit the base and no casualties were reported.

Viet Cong suicide squads invaded the base last week, and destroyed or damaged 38 helicopters.

U.S. B-52s from Guam bombed an important Viet Cong strong hold in the Boi Loi forest 35 miles northwest of Saigon. The Communists are solidly entrenched in the forest and have withstood all efforts so far to knock them out. The results of the B-52 attack were not announced.

A U.S. photo-reconnaissance plane was shot down over North Viet Nam Monday, a U.S. military spokesman announced, but the pilot bailed out and a rescue aircraft picked him up in the South China Sea about 60 miles east of Haiphong.

The spokesman said the pilot, Capt. Norman P. Huggins of Mullins, S.C., was in good condition.

South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's office announced that Ky would leave next Monday on a state visit of two or three days to South Korea. Since taking office in June, he has visited Formosa, Thailand and Malaysia and urged an anti-Communist alliance of Asian nations.

Money For Maine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army engineers will get $800,000 to start surveys and plans for a $227-million hydroelectric and flood control project on the upper St. John River in Maine.

Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, 1313 West Broadway, has accepted the chairmanship of the Children's Therapy Center annual Bond Drive.

Stauffacher has been active in organizations serving handicapped children and was recently given the Silver Lily award from the Easter Seal Society for 25 years participation in that organization.

The Children's Therapy Center is a non-profit organization offering speech, occupational and physical therapies to any one who can benefit from these services. The Center also maintains a pre-school and an ungraded classroom and offers as part of its diagnostic services, physical medicine evaluations and psychological testing as well as treatment in these areas.

This is the fifth year for the Bond Drive which was designed to give all residents of Pettis County a chance to make their contribution to the work of the Center. The drive will be conducted Sunday, Nov. 21.

Those visiting the store were impressed with the massiveness of the building, the light, color and beauty of the interior and the assortment of merchandise in addition to the complete grocery stock.

Construction bids will soon be advertised.

Residents of the Public Water Supply District 1, Moniteau County, which covers a square mile around Fortuna, gave unanimous approval for $85,000 in bonds to finance a water works system Monday. Total vote was 93 for and none against.

The $85,000 will be used to purchase land, construct the system, and purchase equipment and supplies needed for its operation.

The principal and interest of the bonds will be paid for only out of net income and revenues arising from the water works system.

Construction bids will soon be advertised.

In Balloting Tuesday

Watch Off-Year Elections For Possible Future Use

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Jersey, Virginia and a half dozen Eastern and Midwestern cities — including New York, Philadelphia and Cleveland — hold the spotlight in scattered off-year election balloting today.

In most of them, Republicans are trying to supplant Democratic office-holders. The results will be watched closely for possible portents for the 1966 congressional and 1968 presidential elections.

Most interest has centered on New York City. An estimated 2.5 million of the city's 3.6 million eligible voters are expected to decide a hotly contested mayor's race between Democratic City Comptroller Abraham D. Beame and Rep. John V. Lindsay, a Republican running with Liberal party backing at the head of a fusion ticket.

Straw polls indicate a close vote. The race is complicated by the presence of a third candidate, author-publisher William F. Buckley Jr., the Conservative party nominee.

Democrats are favored to capture both governor's contests. In New Jersey, Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes, 56, is expected to defeat GOP State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., 51, while in Virginia Democratic Lt. Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr., 50, is rated a probable victor over Republican A. Linwood Holton, 42, and Conservative party nominee William J. Story, 55.

Republicans are making strong bids for mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, and district attorney of Philadelphia. Other important mayoral elections are in Detroit; Louisville, Ky.; and Akron, Ohio.

New Jersey, Virginia and New York are electing legislatures, while Kentucky is filling some seats. In the only congressional contest, Republican Clarence J. Brown Jr., 38, is favored to capture the Ohio 7th District seat held for many years by his late father. Brown's Democratic opponent is James A. Berry, 35.

Although Lindsay, 43, has soft-pedaled his Republicanism, a victory or even a good showing in defeat could propel him into the front rank among future GOP presidential possibilities.

Beame, 59, won the nomination by defeating retiring Mayor Robert F. Wagner's choice, Paul R. Scovane. The comptroller received President Johnson's endorsement last week and Democrats hold a 7-2 registration advantage.

In New Jersey, a turnout of 2.3 million of the more than 3.1 million registered voters is anticipated. Democrats claim a big lead for Hughes and hope to capture control of both houses of the recently reapportioned legislature for the first time in more than 50 years.

Dumont has attacked Hughes for refusing to dismiss Eugene D. Genovese, a Rutgers University professor who said he would welcome a Viet Cong victory in the Vietnamese war. Hughes said he disagrees with Genovese but that to fire him would be to violate academic freedom. Rutgers is a state university.

Petition for Release Refused a Soldier

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A petition for release, charging insufficient legal representation at his court martial, was denied Monday to a soldier confined at the U.S. Disciplinary Barracks, Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

U.S. Judge Arthur J. Stanley Jr. dismissed the request for a habeas corpus sought by Pvt. Michael LeBallister of Walnut Valley, Calif.

The court was informed by the Army judge advocate general that while counsel for LeBallister were not lawyers, they were qualified and competent to represent him by education and previous trial experience.

Roy Cook, who represented LeBallister's habeas corpus petition, said he would appeal its dismissal.

LeBallister is serving two six-month sentences, one for being absent without leave, the other for refusing to do close order drill, both while stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif.

Kansas City Banker Dies of Heart Attack

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Maurice L. Breidenthal died Monday night of a chronic heart ailment. He was 77.

He entered the University of Kansas Medical Center on Oct. 10 for a physical checkup, and died there.

Breidenthal was a son of the late John W. Breidenthal, the first Kansas state bank commissioner and founder of the old Riverview State Bank, now a part of the Security National Bank of Kansas City, Kan., the state's fourth largest in deposits.

Maurice Breidenthal was chairman of the board.

He established what was to become the Security National in 1911, one year after graduation from the University of Kansas.

Two years later he married Miss Louise McCurry of Parsons, Kan.

In 1933, Breidenthal merged his bank with the Peoples National Bank and adopted the present name, then consolidated in 1962 with his father's bank, Riverview State, which his brother, Willard J. Breidenthal, had headed until his death shortly before.

Breidenthal leaves the widow, two sons and two daughters. Funeral services are incomplete.

Wilkinson Speaks at Rotary

Reviews Difficult Job As Head of State Prisons

Fred T. Wilkinson, Missouri Director of Corrections, Jefferson City, told Rotarians of the problems in connection with the rehabilitation of prisoners at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club Monday noon at Hotel Bothwell.

Wilkinson, retired Deputy Director of the Bureau of Prisons in Washington, D. C., accepted the Missouri position last April.

He discussed the difficulty of adapting a modern program of rehabilitation in Missouri Penitentiary facilities constructed in 1836, and the need to pull the Moberly Prison more into penal system planning. The Moberly facility, he pointed out, was only partly completed because of the 20 per cent increase in construction costs between the time of the appropriation and construction.

He stated there is a need for expansion of the Moberly prison from its present 600 prisoner capacity so it may accommodate twice that number.

Fifty per cent of all prisoners today are under 25 years of age, according to the speaker, and many of them are coming from over-crowded and congested areas in our cities. Something like the poverty program is long overdue to help clear the problems of our cities, according to Wilkinson.

He concluded his talk by telling of his assignment to exchange Rudolph Abel, the Russian spy for Gary Powers, American U-2 pilot, and of the precautions taken so the mission was successfully accomplished.

The speaker was introduced by William Hopkins, Rotary program chairman.

Jack Cunningham, International Contacts chairman for the club, called attention to the Sunday, Nov. 7, visit to Sedalia of foreign students from higher education schools in the area to be guests in homes of Rotarian families that day and at a dinner that evening at Sacred Heart Cafeteria. The club members voted to have the dinner catered that evening, rather than a contributive dinner, as previously planned.

"So who needs Blue Cross-Blue Shield?"

An understandable question from a robust fellow typical of most young people who have always enjoyed good health—and hope they always will.

At Blue Cross-Blue Shield we share that hope. But at the same time we know that hoping is not enough . . . for accidents and illness do not respect age! Proof? Locally 1 out of every 5 Blue Cross members admitted to a hospital last year was between 19 and 34 years of age.

Even more important than the chance of an accident or illness is the fact that most young families are not prepared for the financial burden of hospital and doctor bills. After grocery bills, house and car payments, there's not much left over for emergencies. That's why we say to young people—"Yes, you do need Blue Cross-Blue Shield."

Blue Cross-Blue Shield is the choice of almost one out of every three persons. 64 Million now have Blue Cross protection for hospital bills. Over 56 Million have Blue Shield for doctor bills.

You may join through a group at work. If that is not possible, you can apply for non-group membership. The coupon below will bring you all the facts. There is no obligation. Mail it today. You'll be glad you did.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I didn't think much of your answer to the parents who complained about their daughter's boy friend. The young man worked for his uncle who is a mortician. When he went calling on his girl, he often rode over in a hearse and then parked in front of the girl's house. Our daughter should be so lucky. She is dating a shady character who appeared out of nowhere. He has plenty of money to spend but no one seems to know for sure if he works or where. My husband thinks he is a bookee.

Every profession and trade has a code to guide the conduct of its members. If that young man does not know better than to go visiting his girl in a hearse, someone did an exceedingly poor job of training him.—V.H.W.

Dear V.H.W. Thanks for your letter. I agree — a hearse should not be used as a joy wagon and I'm happy you set the young man straight.

Dear Ann Landers: What do you think of a woman who insists that her husband take his annual vacation when she goes to the hospital for a check-up so he can come and visit her every day?

The doctors put her through every test under the sun but they couldn't find anything wrong with her. Nobody was surprised. The woman is a constant complainer. This couple could have gone to Europe five times on the money he has spent on doctors and hospital bills in the last 25 years.

The husband who got gyped out of his vacation is a very good guy. His wife's a coul puss. This stunt is typical of her. I am in a position to give you facts, not gossip, because I'm a relative, but I'm not saying who. Please print your answer. Thank you. — MAD

Dear Mad: You don't need to say who. I can guess. So why did you let your wife talk you into it?

A person who is in the hospital for a check-up is usually occupied and/or exhausted. One hour's visit after work would have been plenty for both of you. Too bad, Dad.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Fashion Buying Explained For Home Ec Women

Jim Callis, merchandising manager of C. W. Flower Co., addressed Pettis County Home Economic Group at its fall meeting recently at Flat Creek Inn.

Callis spoke of his profession as a buyer. He explained his college work was in the business field, but home economics graduates also enter the merchandising field.

Most department stores, Callis indicated, carry two merchandise lines: basic items good year after year; fashions, merchandise that is constantly changing. For the midwest, said Callis, fashion merchandise is modified to be acceptable to that buying public; in the east, garments are worn as designed by the designer. In the midwest, clothing and design must fit the occasion.

Callis compared buying to the farming profession, stating that when he buys clothing for the next season, fall merchandise in mid-summer, he hopes, like the farmer, he will have a good season and that his crop of selections sell well.

A word tour of New York buying houses was conducted by Callis. He emphasized buyers must remember needs and demands of customers for extreme or moderate fashions. A buyer is also responsible for ordering the correct amount of merchandise for his store to move, because over-buying, he explained, represents a loss for the store.

Callis pointed out that permanent press processes have brought about many changes in the garment industry, and indicated knits are becoming more popular and will be used in many types of wearing apparel.

Mrs. William I. Reid, president, presided. Mrs. Albert Moore was selected to represent Home Economists on the County Family Living Committee.

The Spring meeting will be held during National Home Economic Week, when area high school girls interested in home economics will be guests.

A HAIR? CUT?—No, Jayne Mansfield is not, under normal circumstances, a hair stylist. And Marty Allen of the Allen & Rossi duo, normally gets his bush cut by a gardener. The establishment is New York's lavish Bat Pink Clip Shop.

Col. Robert Holt (Washington, D. C.)

Word has been received here of the death of Army Col. Robert Bandy Holt, 45, former Sedalian, an official in the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Military Operations, Washington, D. C., who died Oct. 28 at his home after suffering a heart attack.

Col. Holt served as senior divisional advisor to the 35th Division of Missouri-Kansas National Guard in 1952-1955 and he and his family resided in Sedalia during that period.

Born in Yakima, Wash., Holt enlisted in the Army in 1941 and was commissioned a second lieutenant the following year.

During World War II, he served in Europe as a member of the 1st Special Service Forces. During the Korean War, Holt served as an advisor to a Korean regiment. Later he was chief of staff of the 2nd Armor Division at Fort Hood, Tex.

Holt went to Washington in 1963 and joined the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Military Operations. At the time of his death he was assistant director for Strategic Plans and Policy in the office.

Holt, a graduate of the Armed Forces Staff College and the U. S. Army War College, won the Silver Star, Legion of Merit and the Army Commendation Medal.

Surviving are his wife, Phyllis, and two sons, Robert J. and James E., all of the home.

Services were Oct. 25 in Ft. Myer Chapel, Washington. Burial was in San Bruno, Calif.

debate and there appeared no clear cut indication of what the final outcome would be.

The House went further than the governor's recommendations by adding two liberalizing amendments.

One would allow an old person to own a $1,000 life insurance or burial insurance policy and still be eligible for benefits.

The other, often passed by the House only to die in the Senate, would let a pensioner live with relatives, no matter what the family income, and still receive assistance.

Rep. Monty Harlow, R-Greene County, estimated it would cost $3 million to $5 million a year.

Rep. M. E. Bauer, D-Jackson County, who called the plan irresponsible, figured the cost at $10 million.

The amendment was adopted, 73-67, in a vote cutting across party lines.

Both bills are now ready for passage, perhaps Wednesday.

Now Personality Battle In Canadian Elections

By MA HAGRELSON

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian election campaign has boiled down to a personality battle between two old political rivals — the quiet Liberal Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and the seldom-quiet Conservative ex-Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

Issues have taken a secondary role as the party leaders fight it out for the fourth time in seven years. The Nov. 8 election could be the last for the loser, possibly for both. Diefenbaker is 70, Pearson 68.

Diefenbaker, as always, is making a hard-hitting campaign, traveling through the country, speaking day and night and exuding confidence.

Pearson has kept his campaign mostly in low key, remaining in Ottawa most of the time. It has been the Liberal strategy to concentrate Pearson's efforts on a last-minute drive.

Both Pearson and Diefenbaker have been criticized for the way they conduct their campaigns. Some call Pearson's effort a noncampaign and suggest it is partly responsible for a lack of public enthusiasm.

Diefenbaker is accused of distortion and innuendo. The Toronto Star said he had "abandoned a controlled attack for a wild whirling dance down the low road."

Although public opinion polls give the Liberals a big edge in the election, both parties have had their eyes on the great mass of undecided voters. As the campaign opened, one poll showed 36 per cent in the undecided category.

Pearson's campaign manner is a gamble. Surveys in the past showed that his popularity decreased when he campaigned actively.

The Pearson camp is hoping that his campaign will peak on election eve and that perhaps Diefenbaker has miscalculated the pace of the campaign and fired most of his ammunition prematurely.

It is understood, however, that Diefenbaker has told some associates in confidence that he will give up the leadership if the party is defeated. And there are a half dozen Conservatives moving quietly to seek that leadership.

These include Davie Fulton, former justice minister; George Hees, former trade minister; Duff Roblin, premier of Manitoba; John Robarts, premier of Ontario; and Dalton Camp, president of the Conservative Association.

Diefenbaker, one-time criminal lawyer from Saskatchewan, first became Conservative leader in 1956. He led the party to victory over Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent in 1957. He came back to defeat Pearson in 1952 and 1962, but lost to Pearson in 1963.

Pearson, former career diplomat and Nobel Peace Prize winner, succeeded St. Laurent as Liberal leader in 1958. If he wins the Nov. 8 election by a clear majority he can head the government for as long as five years. He has not indicated what he will do if defeated.

Pet Food Production Hit $654.6 Million Last Year

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicken croquettes, mixed grill, a meatball dinner for Rover? Yes, they are making gourmet dog food now for particular pets.

Pet food was a $654.6-million market in the United States last year. It nearly has doubled since 1958. Predictions are that it will run more than a billion dollars by 1975.

Sales of pet food are growing despite a drop in the number of dogs and cats.

The dog population has declined from 24.1 million in 1961 to 22.9 million in 1965, according to a market research report. The cat population went down from 22.1 to 16.7 million during the same time.

But manufacturers are selling more dog and cat food. Sales the first six months of 1965 were up 10 per cent from 1964.

Trade sources say that is because more of the pets are owned by city and suburban families, which traditionally have been heavier buyers of commercially prepared pet foods.

Eye appeal and convenience pet foods are the order of the day. Pet foods are being made to look like human ones. Advertisements show juicy red steaks or meatloaf touched with parsley.

There is what is billed as a gourmet cat food, compounded of liver, kidney, chicken, meat and fish to appeal to the most fastidious Siamese.

It is far removed from the day when great-grandmother filled the farm dog's dish with table scraps.

The big pet food companies are going all out to keep pets from feeding on the family's leftovers or sharing its meals.

In the past decade, the big swing has been to packaged dry foods, pellets expanded by air or steam. Manufacturers say they are cheaper than canned food, neater and offer a more uniform product.

Then one manufacturer came up with a gravy made by adding water. Others followed with their own chunks with sauces.

Now there also are soft moist pet foods which come in various forms — hamburger patties or meatballs. Some are individually wrapped in meal-sized packages that don't need to be stored in the refrigerator.

The pet food manufacturers say the new dog and cat owners want small packages that don't require refrigeration or anything to be added before serving.

One brand even comes packaged with individual plastic trays, eliminating the need of a dish.

Medical Film Shown LaMonte PTA Oct. 18

Mrs. John Silsby showed a film, "Modern Medicine and its Effect Upon Heart Disease" to LaMonte Parent Teachers Association Oct. 18 at LaMonte R-IV School. The program was arranged by Mrs. Robert Williams.

Action and Halloween songs were sung by third and fourth graders.

Mrs. Charles Sparks presented certificates to girls and their coaches, who participated in the summer ball program. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Blakely were recognized for the help they gave the program throughout summer. Others commended were Mrs. Sparks, Mrs. Clarence Carroll, Mrs. Robert Breshears and Mrs. Lloyd Parker.

President Charles Campbell presided. Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was led by Ricky Parker. The Rev. Roy Smith gave a devotional.

Doughnuts, punch and coffee were served by mothers of third and fourth graders.

The next meeting will be Nov. 15 at the school.

Neuberger Drops Out Of Contention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., has dropped out of contention for re-election with a blast against the way she said senatorial campaigns are financed.

Mrs. Neuberger, who is really Mrs. Philip Solomon, made it clear in a statement Monday that one other principal reason for quitting was that she didn't want "to be beholden to some group for campaign money and to go begging from friends and relatives."

The Senate seat she occupies will be at stake in next year's election. Oregon Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, a Republican, is expected to bid strongly for it. Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., might seek the Democratic nomination.

The decision of the 58-year-old Oregon member not to run again probably will not be duplicated by her only woman colleague, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine. Mrs. Smith, who is 67, has not disclosed her plans but friends expect her to bid for a fourth six-year term next year.

Mrs. Neuberger said that since she had an operation for cancer four years ago she has known she probably would not run again. She said she made "a wonderful recovery," that her health is excellent and that she has been able to carry on the heavy workload of a senator.

She said she wants to travel and to have time to work on her husband's papers. She was married to Dr. Philip Solomon, a Boston psychiatrist, in 1964.

"I wanted to be free from the rigors of public life and the obligations of a campaign, especially campaign financing," she said. "I welcome the freedom to spend my last year in office working just as vigorously as I have in the past and not to have to pay homage to some organization just because it might mean a contribution."

She did not specify any particular organization she had in mind.

She quoted her late husband, Richard L. Neuberger, whom she succeeded in the Senate, as writing in a book about their experiences in politics: "In fact why should a politician ever take a bribe when a donation to his next race for office is so much simpler — and so much more legal?"

The 1966 senatorial election in Oregon is going to cost more than both Neubergers spent in two elections," she said. "I want to be free from that financial obligation."

The senator said she plans to work with Dr. Solomon in a campaign for the prevention of mental illness.

List Contests In Off-Year Balloting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the principal contests in today's off-year balloting:

GOVERNORS

New Jersey: Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes, 56, favored for re-election against GOP State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., 51. Democrats seek to gain control of reapportioned legislature.

MAYORS

New York City: Close contest forecast between Rep. John V. Lindsay, 43, running on the Republican and Liberal tickets, and City Comptroller Abraham D. Beame, 59, the Democratic nominee. Also in race: author William F. Buckley Jr., 39, Conservative party nominee. Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner retiring after three four-year terms.

Cleveland, Ohio: Democratic Mayor Ralph S. Locher slightly favored in four-way race. His opponents: Republican County Auditor Ralph J. Perk and two independent Democrats, State Rep. Carl B. Stokes, a Negro, and Ralph McAllister.

Louisville, Ky.: Republican Alderman Kenneth A. Schmeid opposing Democrat Marlin Volz, law school dean at the University of Louisville. GOP Mayor William O. Cowger ineligible for re-election.

Detroit: Mayor Jerome Cavanagh heavily favored over Walter Shamie in nonpartisan election.

CONGRESS

Ohio: Republican Clarence Brown Jr., 38, favored to win his late father's seat in 7th District against Democrat James A. Berry, 35.

OTHERS

Philadelphia: Democratic Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish Jr. in close fight for re-election against Republican nominee Arlen Specter, a former Democrat.

Action Hides An Approach To Comedy

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Elsa Lanchester, whose fluttery manner conceals a thoughtful approach to comedy, believes in developing a funny character as a basically normal person.

"If you don't start out playing an eccentric or a nut," the British performer maintained, "you can turn all sorts of things — particularly small things — into surprise and comedy. But if the character is exaggerated to start, you have to do wild, outrageous things and keep getting wilder and more outrageous as you go along."

Thus, she continued, she plays Miss Culver, the head mistress in John Forsythe's school for young women, as a slightly vague, fuzzy but reasonable creature.

"Then if I do something not quite in character, even drink a glass of port or hiccup — anything unexpected, really — it is likely to seem funny," she explained.

That is Miss Lanchester's theory, built out of long experience. Unfortunately this truly gifted comedienne and some other good performers in NBC's "John Forsythe Show" are mired in some pretty sticky situations and scripts. Normal or eccentric, it is hard to be funny in that series.

Apparently Forsythe, a man of taste, charm and ability, was persuaded that if the television audience accepted several seasons of a series in which he played a gay bachelor blade trying to bring up one teen-age niece, its enjoyment would be multiplied several times over if he played a gay bachelor blade trying to bring up a whole school full of teen-agers.

Monday night's episode — in which Forsythe, Miss Lanchester and the other adults scarcely figured at all — concentrated on a 15-year-old pupil engineering an elopement with a 17-year-old from a nearby military school.

The situations were artificial, the dialogue unreal, the comedy lines stale and the whole half-hour a crashing bore.

After all those seasons of bursting health in the ratings, ABC's dedicated, surly neurosurgeon, "Ben Casey" is ailing. It is almost ironic that the cause of the show's malaise is "Run For Your Life," an NBC series with a hero who has been given two years to live.

The new series starring Ben Gazzara is a well-produced, sleek and diversified show. Its basic format — a hero trying to crowd 30 years of living into a few months — gives it plenty of flexibility.

trying to retain both houses of the reapportioned legislature. Former U.S. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating is Republican nominee for Court of Appeals against Democrat-Liberal Owen McGivern.

Wounded Son Would Return To Viet Nam

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Sgt. Claude W. Spiva, 23, wounded in an ambush by the Army in Viet Nam, wants to go back to Viet Nam as soon as he is able.

His mother doesn't agree. "I don't want him to go back," said Mrs. J. D. McMillian of Decatur, Ga. "Of course it's up to him to decide, but it seems that once should be enough."

She said her son had planned to leave the Army when his enlistment ended in 14 months. Spiva would have six years in the Army at the end of his enlistment.

"I felt I was really doing something over there," Spiva said from his hospital bed. "I feel I can do a better job for the Army in Viet Nam than here in the United States."

The sergeant was wounded

Oct. 8 when guerrilla forces ambushed a 1st Infantry Division truck convoy. He was riding in a truck with his squad when several grenades landed in it.

The grenades killed two of my men, and in the course of the 20-minute ambush the company executive officer and a machine gunner were also killed," he said.

Spiva suffered a bullet wound in his arm and received grenade shrapnel in his right leg.

He said U.S. troops must stay in Viet Nam "as long as we are needed to keep the Communists from taking over Southeast Asia. Most of the troops feel the same way. The ones that are gripping are the ones that gripped during basic and advance training."

"They will gripe anywhere," he said.

Spiva, referring to demonstrations against U.S. involvement in Viet Nam, said, "The troops in Viet Nam don't think too kindly about this."

"Most soldiers think as I do, that everyone should do a hitch in the service."

Comeback Will Be Big Test For M.U.

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

Associated Press Sports Writer

Dan Devine, coach of the 9th-ranked Missouri Tigers, says the true test of a squad's character is how it comes back the week after a tough defeat like up the 16-14 setback to unbeaten Nebraska.

"I will have no further comment about last Saturday," Devine said Monday. "We are putting all our thought and energy now into getting ready to play Colorad."

Colorado Coach Eddie Crowder gave his team the afternoon off, the first free day it has had since practice began Sept. 1. He said the team had no injuries in its 13-0 victory at Oklahoma.

The game at Boulder likely will decide second place in the Big Eight. The winner would be almost certain to get a bowl bid, if it goes on to win its other games.

"No new injuries, but we have enough already to last us a couple of years," said Kansas coach Jack Mitchell. "Mike Johnson is still tight and I don't think he'll be ready for Nebraska."

Johnson, leading rusher for the Jayhawks, missed the 34-0 victory over K-State last week. Dan Miller filled in ably.

"Missouri came out and played us right off our feet," Coach Bob Devaney of Nebraska told the Lincoln Extra Point Club. "Linebacker Lynn Senkbeil and end Langston Coleman are doubtful for the Kansas game."

Clay Stapierton, Iowa State coach who was unhappy with his team after its 14-10 victory over Oklahoma State, did an about-face after viewing the films.

"I don't think we even looked better in the eight years I have been at Iowa State," Stapierton said. "Mistakes were still there and just as costly but they didn't stick out like they did in my thinking Saturday."

Kansas State coach Doug Weaver said his team has so

Irwin Is Back Of The Week

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Big Eight Back of the Week is Hale Irwin of Colorado, three-time Colorado amateur golf champion who didn't go on the tournament trail this year because he won only five of the 10 tournaments he entered last summer.

"Hale would play in the tournaments only if he is convinced he can be another Palmer or Nicklaus," said Eddie Crowder, Colorado coach. A victory in the national amateur might have convinced Irwin he should take to the trail.

Second best isn't good enough for this 6-foot, 180-pound junior from Boulder. An All Big Eight Academic choice as a sophomore, he said before the season: "We're looking forward to winning. Everybody here is sick and tired of losing. This whole squad loves to play football."

The Buffaloes have dropped only one game, to unbeaten Nebraska.

Irwin was voted the Back of the Week honor because he made three touchdown-saving plays against Oklahoma. Just before halftime with the Buffs ahead 10-0, Oklahoma had the ball on the Colorado 1-yard line.

The Buffs made a substitution error and had only 10 men on the field. Irwin noticed middle guard was vacant. He took over though and nailed quarterback Gene Cagle for no gain. In the last half he stole two passes to save TDs, one at the goal, the other at the 7.

Nebraska linebacker Mike Kennedy made 13 tackles and rallied the Huskers in a winning comeback to gain Big Eight Lineman of the Week honors.

"They hurt our pride when they took those two away from us," Kennedy said of Missouri's early 14-0 lead. "We had to defend ourselves."

"We knew we could stop them and we did," Coach Bob Devaney didn't have to say much at the half. I talked to my guys and Frank (Solich, offensive captain) talked to his."

The 5-foot-9, 219-pound Kennedy is captain of the defensive unit.

Next to Irwin in the voting were a trio of Nebraska standouts, halfback Harry Wilson, quarterback Fred Duda and Solich. Wilson was the choice of the Husker coaches for his strong running and blocking.

Other back nominees were Gary Grossnickle, Missouri defensive back, over Gary Lane; Bill Fenton, Dick Abernethy and Dan Miller of Kansas; Walt Garrison, Oklahoma State; and tackle Dennis Randall of Oklahoma State.

By WILL GRIMESLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State is more firmly entrenched today as the No. 1 college football team in the country, and it looks as if the position will remain comfortable until at least Nov. 20.

That's the day that the Spartans, closing their regular season, take on the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, who have some designs on the national football title themselves.

The Spartans have had rare success against the Irish during the past decade, but last year Notre Dame atoned for a lot of past beatings by smashing the Big Ten power 34-7.

Since losing to Purdue in the second game of the campaign, Ara Parseghian's South Benders have come fast, winning impressively over Northwestern, Army, Southern California and Navy.

They have the sort of running strength and defense that could give the leaders a run for it. They have moved to fourth in the standings.

Iowa, the State for Saturday, has lost six games and won only one. Indiana, to be met Nov. 13, has won two and lost five.

The Spartans, crushing Northwestern 49-7 last week for their seventh straight victory, so impressed the special panel of sports writers and broadcasters that they collected 36 of the 50 first-place votes.

This was enough to give them 481 points—a comfortable lead over Arkansas, which got 11 votes after drubbing Texas A&M 31-0. Nebraska, also unbeaten, got the remaining three first-place mentions on a narrow 16-14 squeak over Missouri and clung to third place.

The lower part of the Top Ten standings continues to undergo changes with each week.

Alabama, with a 4-1 record, is in fifth place, followed by Southern California. The four teams below them are all new—Georgia Tech, UCLA, Missouri and Kentucky. They replaced Louisiana State, Florida, Purdue and Texas, all of whom were beaten.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points:

1. Mich. State (36) 7-0	481
2. Arkansas (11) 7-0	457
3. Nebraska (3) 7-0	392
4. Notre Dame 5-1	362
5. Alabama 5-1	201
6. Southern Calif. 4-1	201
7. Georgia Tech 5-1	115
8. UCLA 4-1	105
9. Missouri 4-2	52
10. Kentucky 5-2	49

Another Hole-In-One

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Holes in one are becoming old hat to Jim Lucarelli of nearby Conneaut Lake.

The 51-year-old Lucarelli sank his sixth career hole in one Monday, on the par 3, 173-yard seventh hole of Park golf course in Conneaut Lake.

Next to Irwin in the voting were a trio of Nebraska standouts, halfback Harry Wilson, quarterback Fred Duda and Solich. Wilson was the choice of the Husker coaches for his strong running and blocking.

Other back nominees were Gary Grossnickle, Missouri defensive back, over Gary Lane; Bill Fenton, Dick Abernethy and Dan Miller of Kansas; Walt Garrison, Oklahoma State; and tackle Dennis Randall of Oklahoma State.

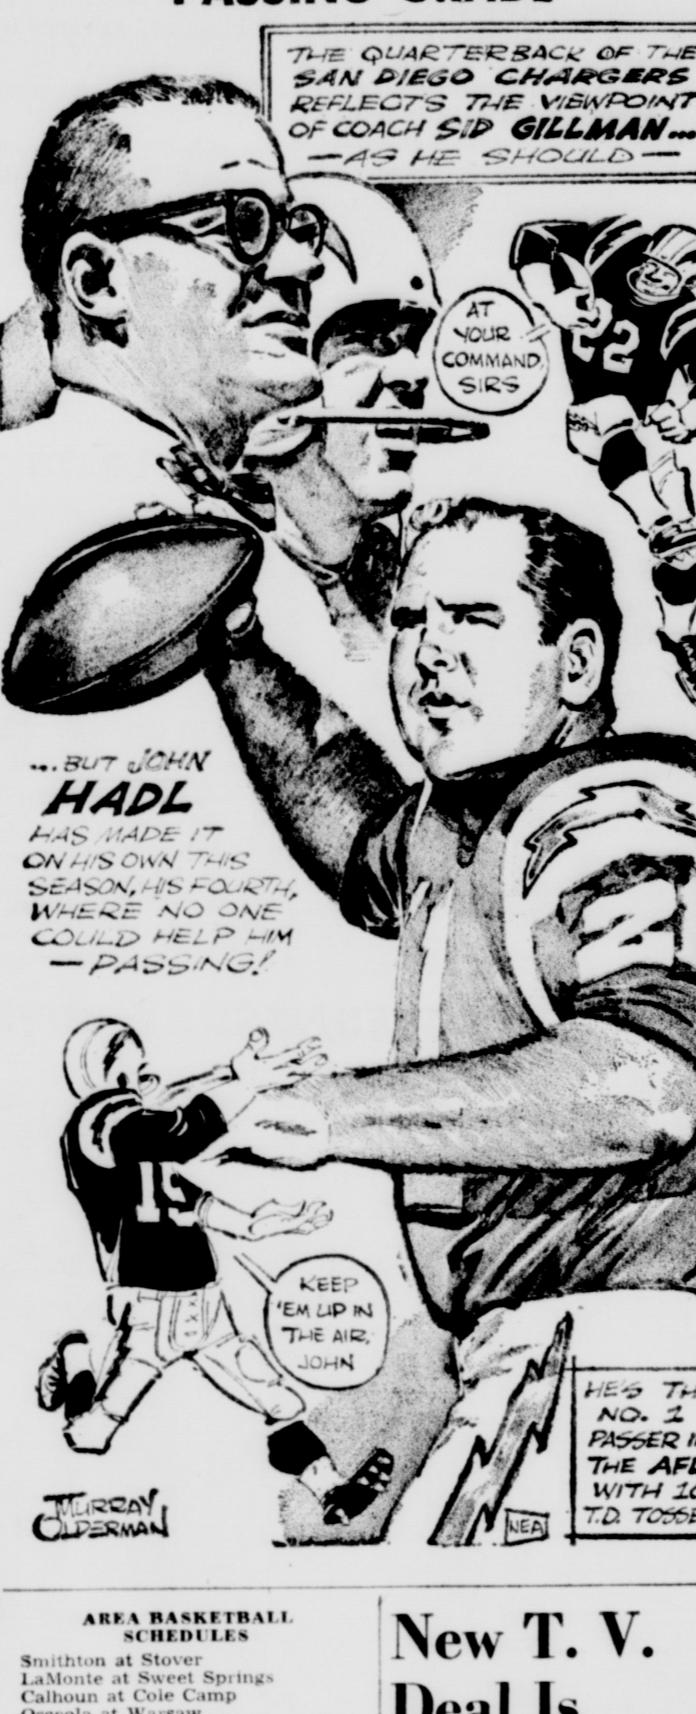

He pie Barney, Iowa State. The last two are split ends. K-State had no nominees.

The players are nominated by coaches and chosen by a panel of newsmen. Other linemen nominated were linebacker Carl McAdams of Oklahoma; offensive tackle Butch Allison of Missouri; linebacker Ron Haldor of Iowa State; tackle Frank Bosch of Colorado; tackle Bill Wohlford of Kansas; and tackle Dennis Randall of Oklahoma State.

The victory was number 6,023 for Longden, who long has held the world lifetime record. But the suspension means that he won't ride George Royal in the $150,000 added Washington International at Laurel, Md., Nov. 11, the final day of Longden's set-down.

Tulsa vs. Louisville

Passing Wizzards Will Meet In Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Tulsa-Louisville game Saturday at Tulsa for the Missouri Valley football championship matches two of the nation's three best passing teams.

Tulsa is no. 2 nationally in pass offense with 342.2 yards a game and Louisville is no. 3 with 227.7. The national leader is Texas Western at 363.2. Texas Western is coached by Bobby Dobbs, brother of Tulsa coach Glenn Dobbs.

Tulsa is in the unusual position of being far ahead of the national mark in passing it set last year at 317.9, yet second this year.

Tulsa also leads the Valley, and the nation, in total offense with 425.7 yards a game. Louisville has 334.4. North Texas 332.8. Cincinnati 269.5 and Wichita 256.9. North Texas also rates high in passing at 218.1.

Cincinnati leads the Valley in rushing with a 198.8 average and 91 touchdowns.

Louisville quarterback Benny Russell is ahead of Anderson in one respect: he has averaged 8.4 yards for every attempted pass to 6.9 for Anderson. Russell has 78 of 154 for 1,292 yards and 10 touchdowns. Russell also has scored six touchdowns. All three are among the nation's leaders.

Twilley is bidding for the national scoring crown with 74 points and flanker John Love of North Texas is high with 64. Love is the Valley's no. 2 receiver with 56 for 774 yards and 7 touchdowns.

Bill Bailey of Cincinnati leads in rushing with 378 yards after his 203-yard day against North Texas. Wayne Patrick with 315 and Al Mac Farland 311, both of Louisville, are next; Tony Jackson and Dolph Banks of Cincinnati have 297 each, Willie Cherry of North Texas 295 and Pete DiDonato of Wichita 264. Banks is the best average with 6.4 per carry.

The choice of Sisler was announced Monday by Don Fauver, University of Missouri director of athletics and secretary of the 14-year-old state sports hall.

Guard of Honor

LONDON (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano was given a guard of honor when he marched up to receive a trophy Monday at an Anglo-American sports dinner honoring him for his contributions to boxing.

"I can expect a bad decision anywhere else, but not in my home town," said the 28-year-old Chuvalo, who spent 45 minutes behind the locked door of his dressing room shouting at his manager, Irving Unger, and his trainer, Bernie Glickman.

He blamed Unger for agreeing to fight in Toronto, saying the bout should have been held elsewhere.

A crowd of 12,500 at Maple Leaf Gardens paid $124,456.50 to see Terrell win his 14th straight fight. His record is 38-4. Chuvalo's record is 33-10-4.

The NFL is researching about six cities for its 16th member. New Orleans and Seattle are believed to be the two most likely candidates but others are included.

World News In Brief

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly is ready to approve a resolution urging Britain to use military force to assure political freedom and equality for Rhodesia's 4 million Africans.

The resolution was approved by the assembly's Trusteeship Committee 79-8, more than the two-thirds needed for assembly approval. There were 17 abstentions.

The assembly on Oct. 12 adopted a somewhat milder resolution urging the British to take all necessary steps to prevent the colony's white government from declaring unilateral independence.

Industry spokesmen object, saying the hearings were called only to discuss the proposed 90 per cent requirement.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator decides to quit at the conclusion of her present term.

The Ku Klux Klan hearings revolve around a "more violent" subsidiary.

The Food and Drug Administration mulls over the problems of peanut butter.

NEUBERGER: Sen. Maurine Neuberger says she will bow out of the Senate on Jan. 3, 1967.

The 58-year-old Oregon Democrat was first elected to the Senate in 1960 to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, Richard L. Neuberger. She won a full, six-year term the following year.

Last summer, she married Dr. Philip Solomon, a one-time Oregonian and now a Boston psychiatrist.

The senator says she is quitting so she will have time to travel and work on her husband's papers.

KLAN: American spelled backwards is Nacirema. Congressional probbers say it's also the name of an apparent offshoot of the Ku Klux Klan.

Philip Manuel, an investigator of House Committee on Un-American activities, says Nacirema was formed for those who want "more violent action."

PEANUTS: Industry opponents have won the first skirmish in a battle over whether the FDA should fix the peanut content of peanut butter at 90 per cent.

An FDA examiner has ruled that the current hearings may include discussion of the phrase "peanut spread," a label proposed by the Federation of Homemakers for anything with less than 95 per cent peanut content.

Industry spokesmen object, saying the hearings were called only to discuss the proposed 90 per cent requirement.

Miss Waunita Jane Wheeler Weds Robert John Karbinas Oct. 15th

Mrs. Robert John Karbinas

White pompon chrysanthemums and gladioli were arranged in two standard baskets on the altar of Hughesville Baptist Church for the marriage of Miss Waunita Jane Wheeler to Mr. Robert John Karbinas, at half past seven o'clock Friday evening, Oct. 15. The Rev. William M. Wormsley read double ring vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Wheeler, Hughesville. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Karbinas, Williamsport, Pa.

Mrs. Bill Bruening, Hughesville, pianist, played "Simple Avenue," "I Love You Truly" and "Melody of Love." She accompanied Mrs. Gerald Lansing, Sedalia, who sang "O Promise Me" and, as the couple knelt on a white satin pillow at the altar, "O Perfect Love." The musicians were presented corsages of tangerine carnations, tied with green, brown and orange ribbon, to wear with their gowns.

Her father escorted the bride to the altar and presented her in marriage. She was attired in a white French brocade floor-length gown with a chapel train. The bodice was styled with a scoop neckline and long tapering sleeves, which ended in points over the hands. A forward petal plateau of lace and pearls held her French pouf veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a cascade of feathered yellow chrysanthemums and large yellow chrysanthemums. The arrangement was accented with cattails and wheat in bronze, gold and brown. Dark brown velvet ribbon and streamers added a touch of autumn.

Wearing a street length gold French brocade dress, Mrs. Clifford Price, Sedalia, was matron of honor. A curved line of wheat and foliage accented her crescent bouquet, which featured

A miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. Don Thiele Sept. 25, attended by 32 guests.

WINNING MODEL—This new fall hat—a tailored fedora of moss green velour with stenciled calf trim—has a standout for a model. She's Deborah Bryant, Miss America of 1966.

Jan Russell Happy to Be Back on Lot

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There are occasions when time seems to stand still on movie sets.

Like when Jane Russell was taking a bath in "Johnny Reno," her first full-length movie role in eight years.

I can flash back 14 years to another Western being filmed at Paramount, "Son of Paleface," Cecil B. DeMille, master of the bathtub scene, was there to offer technical advice, and costar Bob Hope made some pithy comments, too.

Returning to 1965, I found Miss Russell in splendid shape. She displayed some black-and-blue marks she acquired in the rigorous Western, but she seemed to enjoy being back at work again.

"I was never wild about working," she admitted, "but I did enjoy the studio life. When you're working at a studio, it's like being part of a big family. Paramount was always my favorite studio, and I find that a great many of the people I knew before are still here."

Jane has always brought a studied casualness to her work, and not without reason. "Almost everything about my career has been accidental," she explains, "even back to its beginnings."

In the beginning, of course, was "The Outlaw" and the biggest publicity buildup that Howard Hughes could buy. His investment paid off, and Jane Russell became an international figure. She became the principal asset at RKO when the enigmatic multimillionaire attempted a big studio operation.

Jane remained loyal when other studios beckoned.

"My agent, Lew Wasserman (now head of the MCA-Universal-Decca combine), said I was crazy to sign with Howard again," she recalled. "But why should I have gone off to MGM and work with people I didn't even know? Howard had been very good to me, and I felt that I owed him something."

Her loyalty paid off in what is one of the dream contracts of Hollywood history. Right now she is smack in the middle of a 20-year contract that brings her $1,000 a week.

"That's why mother doesn't have to work," Jane purred.

But she has worked in recent years, touring the world with her own night club act or with Beryl Davis and Connie Haines. "But the last tour I made with the girls was seven months, and that's too long," said Jane, who has been wed to Bob Waterfield for 22 years. "My kids are 16, 15 and 11 now, and I don't like to be gone too long. Pretty soon they'll be gone, and then where will I be?"

Four Generations Honor Mrs. M. Balke

Four generations were present at a birthday dinner honoring Mrs. Maggie Balke, Oct. 24, at her home in Cole Camp.

Present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ring of Fire Centers First Pack 61 Meeting

An outdoor campfire was the center of activity for the first meeting of the year of Cub Scout Pack 61, Trinity Lutheran Church.

Cubs marched to the fire circle, carrying lighted smudge pots on sticks and stood around the fire as Den 3 conducted flag ceremony. Color bearers were Bobby Bruns and Kirk Wissert; color guards, Bobby Hartley and Tommy Knight. Den Chief Ronnie Wells led Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Cubmaster Bill Fingland led several songs. Den 1 assisted group singing of "Rabbit Ain't Got No Tail" and Den 3 sang "John Brown's Ford." Cub Eric Doering read Eugene Field's "Seen Things at Night" and Cub Mark Dollard lighted the "Spirit of Cub Scouting" candle.

Webelos ceremony was held for Bobby Fingland and Wayne Bidstrup, in which they received Webelos patches and certificates from their den mother, Mrs. Bill Fingland. They removed cub neckerchiefs and presented them to their parents. Webelos mother's pins were also given. The Cub pair was led by Fingland to a bridge, over which they crossed to waiting Boy Scouts on the other side. Patrol leaders from Troop 65, Art Lamm, Tony Cassing and Bill Fingland, Jr., tied Boy Scout neckerchiefs provided by Troop 65 and welcomed boys to the troop.

Fingland explained the sig-

SOMETHING FOR THE BOYS—Deloris Nevil, left, and Gerry Britt put the finishing touches on a message to servicemen in Viet Nam painted on a helicopter rotor blade bound for Viet Nam. Medical Assistants Receive Instruction

Heart massage and mouth to mouth resuscitation demonstrations were given by Dr. Keith Jones for Tri-County Medical secretaries and Assistants Society Oct. 18 at Doctors Clinic, Warrensburg.

To illustrate instruction, Dr. Jones used a manikin. He advised using the life-sustaining techniques until a physician could arrive.

Ada Potter, president, announced Dr. Robert L. Glass as guest speaker for the 7 p. m. Nov. 15 dinner meeting at Holliday Inn.

Scout-a-rama neckerchief slides, earned by Wesley Keele and Roger Fingland, Blue Ribbon for Pack 61's Scout-a-rama booth was displayed.

Grand Howl by Den 2, was led by Den Chief Tommy Brown. Scout benediction was given.

Betterment Stars Merited By Knob Noster

Knob Noster has two stars in the Missouri Community Betterment Program. The first star is for education. The second star is the transportation star.

Requirements for transportation star include the street program and an air marking guide.

A city in the population category of 1,000 to 2,500 must have a formal street program, pavement with curb in 90 per cent of business district, storm sewers or drainage meeting engineering standards, engineering of street construction, ordinances on new streets of subdivisions, street name signs at intersections, adequate parking except for one day per week. Ted Zink and Kelly Neitzert are members of Community Betterment transportation committee. Zink is also a city council member.

Second phase of the transportation star is for the air marker. The marker was painted on the roof of IGA Foodliner several months ago. It consists of the name "Knob Noster" and the distance direction to the nearest useable air field. The marker meets state and federal requirements and is planned according to Federal Aviation Agency specifications.

Introducing a NEW SYMBOL OF PROGRESS, DEPENDABILITY AND SERVICE!

CITIES SERVICE GAS COMPANY
FIRST NATIONAL BUILDING
OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLAHOMA

K.E. GRENSHAW
PRESIDENT

Dear Friends:

It is a pleasure indeed to present to you the new emblem of Cities Service Gas Company. To us it symbolizes the beginning of another half century of natural gas service to communities and industries in the five state area served by our transmission system.

When shown in color, the clean blue flame of natural gas in the emblem reflects the progressive spirit of our industry. The familiar green Cities Service triangle, of course, has stood for dependability and service for many years.

Our Company has planned in advance for your ever increasing demands for natural gas by obtaining additional supplies in nearby areas, thus assuring you of a continuation of the service to which you have become accustomed. Furthermore, our rates are still among the lowest in the nation. Due to the rapid growth of the area we serve, we have continually expanded our pipeline system and carried out an annual program of modernizing our facilities. The millions of dollars we spend on construction each year not only meets your needs for versatile natural gas, but also promotes economic growth.

Under the banner of our new emblem, we at Cities Service Gas Company reaffirm our pledge to contribute to community and area progress by providing dependable, economical natural gas service to your local gas company.

Sincerely,

K.E. GRENSHAW

GRANNY GOWNS—The old complaint about too-short skirts may be in for a quick change of line as a new vogue for "granny" dresses gains headway among teen-agers. It's enough to turn heads even in blase Los Angeles, as these girls demonstrate. An almost total cover-up can be achieved by topping the ankle-length gowns with ruffled "Betsy Ross" dust caps.

End a Long Costly Drive For Mayor

NEW YORK (AP) — Democrat Abraham D. Beame and Republican-Liberal John V. Lindsay end one of the city's longest, costliest and closest campaigns for mayor today.

But Tuesday's election may hinge on the size of the vote for William F. Buckley Jr., 39, the Conservative party candidate.

Beame, 59, city comptroller under outgoing Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner, and Lindsay, 43, a Republican congressman, reportedly have spent $1.5 million each. Lindsay has been on the hustings since May 14, Beame since June 29.

Lindsay says Beame bears much responsibility for what Lindsay calls the failures of the 12-year Wagner administration.

Wagner is not seeking re-election.

Moreover, Lindsay says Beame is allied with Democratic bosses whom Wagner failed to purge, and will open City Hall to "a parade of party hacks."

Beame, trying to capitalize on a 7-to-2 Democratic voter registration advantage, appeals to party loyalty, and says he can work better with the administration of President Johnson, whose outright endorsement he got only last Friday.

Buckley says he is surprised at the response to his candidacy. He renounced further political ambitions, saying he will return to his job as editor of the magazine, National Review.

Polls show Buckley with as much as 18 per cent of the vote, while Beame and Lindsay have around 40 per cent each, give or take a few points. That would be three or four times as many votes as any Conservative candidate has received in the party's three-year history.

The New York Daily News today gave these percentages in the final report on its straw poll of 15,000 ballots: Lindsay, 42.0; Beame, 40.0; Buckley, 18.0.

The final report on the New York Herald Tribune straw poll today gave these percentages: Beame, 42.3; Lindsay, 41.5; Buckley, 16.2. The newspapers conducted three successive polls throughout the city.

Oates Circle Meets

Mrs. A. L. Gabert gave the program for Alma Oates Circle, California First Baptist Church Oct. 18 at the home of Mrs. Freddie Bolin, California.

Assisting Mrs. Gabert were Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. Paul Bolinger and Mrs. Helen Bailey. Devotional was given by Mrs. A. E. McDaniel.

Dessert was served by Mrs. Freddie Bolin and Mrs. Charley Bolin, co-hostesses.

St. Paul's LWML Circles Meet in October

"Is This the Church" was the topic of the St. Paul's Lutheran LWML Circles for October.

This month the circles reorganized and were assigned new projects. The Elizabeth Circle has "Soul Winning" as its project and elected the following: Mrs. Sena Schutt, chairman; Mrs. Henry Heitman, co-chairman; Mrs. F. A. Schutte, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Anna Grammar, to send guest cards to out-of-town visitors. The hostess was Mrs. Fred Albers.

The Eunice Circle has "Mission and Welfare" as its project and the officers are: Mrs. Otto Rosebrock, chairman; Mrs. Walter Kroenke, co-chairman; Mrs. Raymond Barklage, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Ralph Kreisel and Clarence Mabin, Green Ridge board of education.

A ham dinner served by the home economics class and their sponsor preceded the meeting.

The next meeting will be on Monday evening, Nov. 29, at 6:30 p.m. at Sacred Heart School. The date for this meeting was changed from the regular meeting date of the fourth Monday because of other conflicting meetings.

The Rhoda Circle met with Helen Bergman as hostess. One guest, Mrs. Ruby Grother attended. This circle has "Soul Keeping" as its project and elected Mrs. Ralph Kreisel.

DR. KELLER NOT HOSPITALIZED, NOT INCAPACITATED, NOT RETIRED

Mrs. Keller was hospitalized and in error was listed as Dr. Keller. The office was closed to help Mrs. Keller, who is improving rapidly. Dr. Roy M. Keller is again caring for patients at 300 West 3rd Street. Phone TA 6-5179.

chairman; Mrs. Mark Bergman, co-chairman; Mrs. George Nix, secretary-treasurer.

The parent body meeting of the circles will be held Oct. 27, with the Elizabeth Circle serving. Guest speakers will be the Walther Leaguers who attended LSV this summer.

Good Words Are Apropos

"Swift gratitude is sweetest; if it delays, all gratitude is empty and unworthy of the name."

A quotation from the Greek is apropos at this time because of a series of complimentary expressions from readers to staff members whose productions have been above average. Needless to say these stimulate increased endeavors.

Praise, approval, congratulations, good words are so easy to write or utter it is a wonder more are not exchanged among people whether friends or strangers. If this were done the world would be less disturbed and the community would be better for it.

Some persons simply have the native ability to say thank you or express concern over your well-being when you are not up to par. Others haven't the slightest notion you can be uplifted by what they say in sympathy or appreciation. Then there are those who couldn't care less about how you feel or whatever you have accomplished for their benefit or others.

At this juncture we would like to say THANKS in great big letters to the Sedalia community for the response in self-discipline evident during

An Expensive Seat

If a woman has $200,000 and can satisfy the members of the New York Stock Exchange constitutional requirements, she might get a seat in that financial sanctum.

To date, no woman has applied and it is not likely one will, but Sylvia Porter, the well-informed financial columnist, did raise the question in order to clear up a misunderstanding that no woman could belong even if she met the qualifications.

Sylvia probably could get a seat. The rules are so obviously geared to a masculine membership that a woman asking for a seat might cause a mighty gentleman to rise and offer her one. If Sylvia ever makes the grade, Shakespeare's verse will have to be paraphrased:

"Who is Sylvia?

What is she?
That all the swains command her?
Holy, fair and wise is she;
That N.Y.S.E., a seat did lend her."

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Ray Earl Kendrick of Green Ridge, Route 1, aged 32, and married has the No. 1 card in the Pettis county list of persons registered for selective military service. Cards of more than 3,000 persons registered were all shuffled and then numbered.

FORTY YEARS AGO

John Hammock, E. S. Shortridge and Wesley Lower were appointed commissioners by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman to appraise land in the Spring Fork neighborhood under condemnation proceedings filed by the City Water Company. The land is desired by the water company for the purpose of erecting a large dam for improvement of the water supply in Sedalia.

Klan's Publicity Focal Point in East

By DREW PEARSON

SWARTHMORE, Pa. — Most residents don't know it, but this quiet Quaker community has suddenly become the focal point for the northern mail campaign of the Ku Klux Klan.

Wally Butterworth, public relations man for the United Ku Klux Klans, has rented Box 33 at the Swarthmore post office and picks up his mail here two or three times a week — mail that comes in as a result of a campaign to enlist right-wing support in this liberal college town, the home of Swarthmore College.

Wally Butterworth is the former Philadelphia-New York radio-TV announcer who once lived with James Veneable, KKK attorney, in the shadow of Stone Mountain, Ga. Now 63, Butterworth has an excellent speaking voice, and does quite a business in recording anti-Jewish and anti-Negro tapes which are circulated among hate groups. He frequently calls upon whites to protect their way of life.

For some years Butterworth has been publicity director of the United Klans and recently drifted up to the Philadelphia area where he rented a post office box at Swarthmore. Swarthmore postal officials have not been happy over the rental, but under the law have nothing to say about who rents boxes as long as obscene and subversive matter is not circulated through the mails.

McIntire's Radio Station

One possible explanation for Butterworth's picking Swarthmore for his post office is the location of a vigorous right-wing radio station — WXUR — in Media, only four miles away.

Last March 19, the Federal Communications Commission transferred WXUR to the Fair Theological Seminary, of which Rev. Carl McIntire, the right-wing fundamentalist preacher, is president.

The licensing of WXUR to the McIntire group was made despite protests by the Catholic Interracial Council of New York, the American Baptist Convention, the Lutheran Church in America, the Anti-Defamation League, the United Church of Christ, the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches, the AFL-CIO, the New Jersey Council of Churches, the Presbytery of Philadelphia, the National Urban League and the NAACP.

Seldom has there been such an array of religious and social groups opposing the award of any radio license. Despite this, the FCC gave WXUR to the McIntire group without a public hearing and despite the fact that the three-year license of the original owners had not expired.

Chief reason for this unusual transfer was the mercenary one that the station was "currently losing money."

"We have determined that a hearing looking toward a possible denial of the ap-ing the week-end Halloween observance.

Our personal experience in greeting the masked and costumed youngsters at the front door was an exceptionally pleasant one. The behavior of all the visitors was above reproach as they asked for "treats".

The downtown parade was a diversion that was appreciated by all who participated. For this planned program thanks go to the civic organizations and especially to the police department, Pettis County Post 16, American Legion Police Auxiliary and the Sedalia Citizens Band Radio Club whose members assisted in supervision at this event and elsewhere in Sedalia during the evening.

Chief of Police William E. Miller reported little vandalism in the community. Indeed it was at a minimum if one compares this year's with old time Halloween activities here.

For the self-disciplined behavior of all who might have gone berserk, and for those who inspired a more placid celebration, let us give prompt acknowledgment.

Truly, "swift gratitude is sweetest." So here it is:

THANKS!

The Unveiling

The World Today

Big Talk But Few Really Big Issues

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today's off-year elections: for the most part, dull, and particularly in the governorship races in New Jersey and Virginia. The New York City mayoralty race is a little perkier.

In all three: big talk but few real issues. The outcome isn't likely to show whether the Republicans can bounce back from their 1964 catastrophe with Barry Goldwater.

Still, there's an echo of Goldwater conservatism in New York and Virginia where Conservative party candidates are running without any hope of winning. Their only aim seems to be a show of force.

In New York, where the Democrats have run the city two decades but got all split up in choosing Abraham D. Beame as their candidate, the Liberal-Republican candidate, Rep. John V. Lindsay, didn't even make a purely Republican try.

With a Liberal and Democrat as running mates, the lively, Yale-bred Lindsay has been making a "non-partisan" campaign against Beame, an accountant who rose through Democratic ranks to be city comptroller.

On issues there's little to choose between them. The third candidate in this contest, also Yale-bred, is the very conservative William F. Buckley Jr., author and publisher, whose role has been more heckler than candidate.

From the start he didn't have illusions about winning. If he did win, he said, he'd ask for a recount. He has concentrated upon picking on Lindsay who refused to back Goldwater last year.

If the Lindsay-Beame contest is close, the votes one or the other loses to Buckley may make the difference, thus giving the Conservative group the balance of power and hope for more of the same in future races.

If the active, hand-shaking Lindsay wins it will probably be more of a triumph of personality than support for Republicanism.

President Johnson backed Beame last week but he delayed his blessing so long he gave the impression of wondering whether he ought to.

In New Jersey the candidates are really at a loss for ideas.

There, where Gov. Richard J. Hughes, Democrat, is seeking re-election over Republican State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., the principal issue has been a college professor and Democrats expect a landslide.

Dumont made a big thing of attacking Rutgers University's Prof. Eugene D. Genovese, who said last spring he welcomed a Viet Cong victory in Viet Nam. Dumont wants him fired. But Hughes, while disagreeing with Genovese, says firing him would violate academic freedom. Rutgers is a state university.

In Virginia two conservatives are running against each other under the labels of Democrat and Republican.

The candidate of the powerful Democratic machine in a state where that party has won the governorship 20 times in a row is Lt. Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr.

The Republican candidate, whose party hasn't won the governorship since 1886, is A. Linwood Holton. In Virginia both parties seem tired and complacent but the Democrats have a machine and the Republicans don't.

Even more conservative than Godwin and Holton, William J. Story of the Conservative party has been making his main pitch at the national government. He talked of freeing Virginia from dependency on Washington and made no predictions about winning.

In their final campaign statements Godwin cited the virtues of experience in elective office and Holton called for a fresh approach. And if that doesn't sound tired out, what does?

THE WELL CHILD

Roundworms Pesky, Killing 'em Is Easy

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A reader writes that her 15-month-old son has roundworms and wants to know how the pesky things are acquired. She adds that her doctor wants her to boil the bed sheets, diapers, towels and pajamas and disinfect the bathroom daily. These are worth-while measures but she wants to know if Lysol is a strong enough disinfectant to use. Also how long it will be necessary to take the medicine prescribed to kill the worms.

Roundworms eggs are found in soil where they can remain alive for years. They will not hatch until they are swallowed. These eggs are so small that they can be carried on dirty or sticky fingers without your knowing it. From the fingers they may be deposited in the mouth or on foods. Lysol is a concentrated solution and should be diluted before using in accordance with the instructions given, but in general roundworm eggs are very resistant to any chemical disinfectant.

Meanwhile, it is very important to prevent the child from feeling that the adults in the family are worried about this condition — a condition of which he will be unaware unless his attention is called to it.

Q — Our 3-year-old son has Gaucher's disease. His spleen was removed last month. What causes this disease? Will it affect his health later in life?

A — This is a hereditary form of anemia in which the spleen becomes enlarged. Removal of the spleen is the accepted treatment and usually brings about a complete cure.

"Season Jumpers" Is Seen As One Of Life's Ordeals

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals today is the season jumper.

This is the person who prides himself on getting things done ahead of time. By now he probably already has eaten his Thanksgiving Day dinner and sent out his Christmas cards.

One of the ways we achieve wonder and surprise in life is by accepting the changes that come our way in their proper order, in a cycle that follows a usual pattern. This is why the sequence of spring, summer, autumn and winter gives us so much pleasure. We like it that way; few of us think the system would be improved by mixing up the seasons so that we had roses in January and icicles in September.

Magazines hope to get an edge by mailing out their April issues in January. All sports, including baseball and football, appear to be lengthening their season. The idea is to start sooner and stay longer, thus milking every last possibility of profit by remaining on the scene as long as an excuse can be found to do so.

If nature started following this practice of advancing and extending the seasons, soon we'd be swatting mosquitoes in February and throwing snowballs in July.

One of the ways we achieve wonder and surprise in life is by accepting the changes that come our way in their proper order, in a cycle that follows a usual pattern. This is why the sequence of spring, summer, autumn and winter gives us so much pleasure. We like it that way; few of us think the system would be improved by mixing up the seasons so that we had roses in January and icicles in September.

But that is what the season jumpers of this world seem to be doing. They are trying to get a leap ahead of the other fellow.

If they plan to fly the flag to celebrate the Fourth of July, they run it up the flag staff on May 1.

They buy their furs and topcoats in August; they buy their beachwear and outdoor home cooking equipment in midwinter.

They don't have much fun staying up on Dec. 31 to watch the new year come in as they are too busy coloring eggs for Easter.

Such people regard themselves as clever and efficient, and perhaps they may be. But they also are somewhat depressing to many of the rest of us who like to enjoy our holidays and our seasons separately as they come.

Take the Christmas season, for example. When individuals or promotion firms start beating the drums for Santa Claus before Thanksgiving, they are starting the jingle bells atmosphere too soon.

Christmas comes but once a year, and it is the most welcome of celebrations to most of us — when it comes at its proper time. And that time is after Thanksgiving, not before it.

New High In Church Donations Receipts

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Council of Churches says more than $3 billion was contributed to Protestant churches by the members of 47 denominations in the United States and Canada in 1964.

The council said this represents a 45-year high in giving. The Presbyterian Church in the United States led the constituent members of the council with per-member giving of $114.61.

In Many Forms

Tangible Support for Viet Fighters

NEW YORK (AP) — The word has gone out to American servicemen in Viet Nam.

To the bone-weary ground fighters in the steaming jungles they are sending cables, letters and cards.

"We're with you all the way," they say.

To the casualties in the aid stations and the rear echelon hospitals they are sending precious blood.

"Compliments of Operation Blood Brothers," the bottles are stamped.

To the thousands of lonely Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Marine and Air Force men resting up between battles they are sending packages of candy, cookies and other delicacies.

"From Operation Sweet Tooth," they are labeled.

Thus, in a tangible way, have thousands on thousands of Americans across the country joined in the groundswell of opposition to their fellow countrymen who voice disagreement with the U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

"We just want the U.S. servicemen to know that we want them to win the war and that we're with them," said a member of the student council of Xavier University in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The council set in motion a program of Christmas card sales, the proceeds from which will pay for the sending of cards to American servicemen in Viet Nam.

The sophomore class of Centralia, Wash., Junior College, collected 119 pints of blood to be sent to the wounded Americans in Viet Nam.

In Huntsville, Ala., a reverse "Halloween trick or treat program" was born and is spreading across the nation. It is called "Operation Sweet Tooth."

Instead of asking for treats, the participants are being asked to give candies, cookies and other goodies for shipment to Americans in South Viet Nam.

And the South Vietnamese refugees of the war are not forgotten.

The Delta Sigma Pi chapter of Loyola University in Chicago raised more than $700 and donations still are pouring in to provide aid for South Viet Nam's war orphans.

There are dozens of individual blood drives under way on college campuses, in veterans and civic groups and among other organizations.

The Department of Defense authorized the American Red Cross to accept and collect the blood for defense purposes, but not specifically for Viet Nam.

The department said there is no need for blood in Viet Nam at present.

Veterans clubs at Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, set up "Operation Blood Brothers."

"We are hoping for a chain reaction among American college students to show the boys in Viet Nam that we are behind them," said a college spokesman.

Letter writing and cable campaigns are under way in many parts of the country — some put into motion by individuals as well as college and other groups.

The University of Omaha Young Republican Club called for a letter-writing campaign a week ago.

"The reaction was fantastic," one club official said. "It's got ten out of hand and so numerous that other groups are handling their own promotions now because the Young GOP can't keep up."

Mrs. Earl Trimble, Decatur, Ill., began a one-woman campaign for letters, Christmas cards and presents for friends of her son in Viet Nam.

"It has just snowballed so much I can't find words for it," she said.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard Orns tean of Gladwyne, Pa., began a drive for "letters of good will" to be sent to U.S. servicemen in Viet Nam.

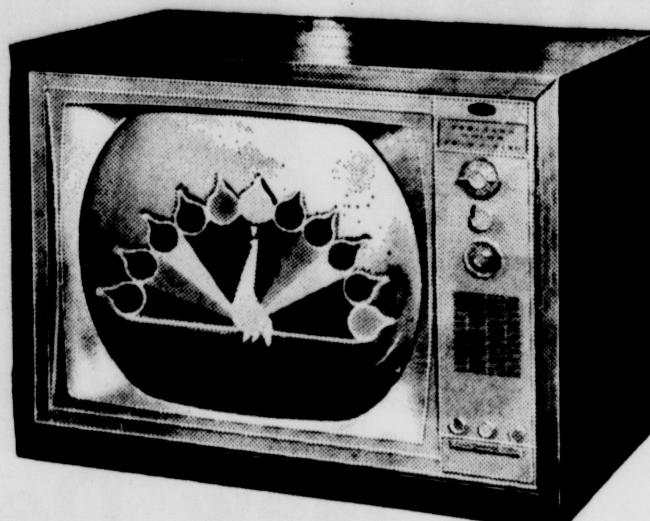

Orns said he already has created 52,000 messages in boxes for shipment to Southeast Asia.

"It sure was great to know the support we are getting. The guys over here know that it is just a few idiots who are making the trouble and that they do not represent true Americans."

November Is Slated To Be Good Month For Recovery

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — November is slated to be the month of recovery with good chances of making solid gains.

September saw the letdown in the economy, slight as it was. Auto makers were changing over to production of new models. Steel mills were hit by a drop in orders after the steel-labor dispute was settled. Other industries were just getting set to meet the hoped-for fall rush.

October saw the steel mills bearing the full brunt of the slowdown while their customers lived off stocks built up when they feared a strike. Auto factories pushed out their new models and tried to assess the demand for them — how much was delight with the product, how much just catching up because of a later than usual introduction of the new styles? October also was the month of seeing just what Congress would and wouldn't pass and judging effects of the legislative program on business.

Six Reserve Units May Be Retained

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last six Army Reserve divisions — tabbed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for elimination — may be saved after all.

It was learned today that Army planners are leaning toward a proposal that would preserve division structures and identities, although the outfits would be smaller than they are now and their members would drill without pay.

Such a solution might satisfy congressional critics of McNamara's plans to streamline the Army's National Guard and Reserve forces, although reservist groups still might object.

On Oct. 22, the Senate Armed Services Committee adopted a resolution formally calling on McNamara to postpone the elimination of 751 Army Reserve units until Congress can take a long look at the plan next year.

Asked what the Pentagon has done in response to this Senate action, the Defense Department said the resolution "is presently under consideration." Sources said orders to set in motion the elimination of the affected units have not gone out.

The six divisions account for about 500 of the 751 units which McNamara said on Sept. 30 are not required and would be "phased out as soon as possible."

Of the 55,000 reservists effected by McNamara's action at that time, about 42,000 are enrolled in the six divisions and their component elements.

The six are: The 63rd Infantry Division of California, the 77th Infantry Division of New York, the 90th Infantry Division of Texas, the 33rd Infantry Division of Ohio and West Virginia, the 102nd Infantry Division of Missouri and Illinois, and the 81st Infantry Division of Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Army officials said these divisions average about 7,000 men each.

Under McNamara's plan, they would be obliterated, officials said.

However, under the proposal now being studied they would be converted into what are called "reinforcement training units."

As such, they would serve as a base for any general mobilization—although McNamara and his top aides doubt the world will ever again see a war of the magnitude of World War II requiring such a massive mobilization.

According to present Army staff thinking, all men with obligated Reserve service remaining would be transferred out of these divisions and placed in some of the 976 National Guard and Reserve units which are being formed into a first-line "select force" of 150,000 men.

Further, Army officials say, other reservists in the six divisions will be encouraged to transfer over to the "select force" where they would train intensively, continue to be paid for these drills, and be subject to crisis mobilization.

With what is left, the Army is thinking of retaining what amounts to skeletons if these divisions, manned by men interested enough in remaining as reservists to drill without pay, take military correspondence courses and otherwise keep active in Reserve affairs.

Such reservists might be paid for summer training and they definitely would continue to pile up credits toward retirement pay which they would collect after they turn 60.

What lies ahead for business should become clear in November.

Guesses on how much more the government will be spending next year will become firmer. And the prospects of some $12 billion more coming out of Washington for individuals and corporations to spend is counted on to help get the early winter business pickup off to a fast start.

Merchants will be learning if shoppers with more to spend are going to be more generous this holiday season. Most stores count on the customers trading up. That is, they will buy higher-priced goods, either because the quality is better or the status is loftier.

Individuals and specific industries will have their periods of uncertainty as the Johnson administration hammers out its 1966 spending program. That it will be bigger seems certain. The question will be: how much more for this type of aid or benefit against that, how much for this kind of goods or that — military vs. civilian; construction vs. subsidies; oldsters vs. youngsters.

And November might bring a break in the debates over higher interest rates and higher prices.

If consumers and business executives get fired with the fervor of optimism that apparently hit the stock market recently, they may be willing to accept the higher prices on consumer and industrial goods that many producers say they must have to meet rising operating costs.

November is billed to be a good month for business. Just how good may answer a lot of today's questions.

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attempts at Electoral College reform have failed at least 100 times, but President Johnson is expected to make another try.

Congressional hearings on the Ku Klux Klan are in their third week, the accent still on violence.

The Communist party is in court for another trial.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE: President Johnson is reported ready to push his proposal to abolish the Electoral College.

The President first asked Congress to approve his suggested constitutional amendment last January. Sources say he has passed the word that he wants action in the next session.

The Johnson plan would eliminate the system under which state voters choose special electors to cast the state vote for president and vice president.

It would designate state officials as simple transmitting officers for the election result.

CLAN: The congressional probe of the Ku Klux Klan is in its third week with the emphasis on the State of Georgia.

Already, the House Committee on Un-American Activities has called Klan leaders from North and South Carolina. Most have refused to answer questions.

Rep. Charles L. Weltner, a Georgia Democrat and member of the committee, says attempts to link the Klan with violence in the Carolinas weren't particularly successful, then adds:

"There were the New Bern (N.C.) bombings and some burnings, but in Georgia, that's where the action is."

COMMUNIST TRIAL: The U.S. Communist party is back in court for a second trial on charges it failed to register as a Soviet agent.

The party was convicted three years ago and fined $120,000, but the U.S. Court of Appeals subsequently overturned the verdict.

It said the government must prove that a volunteer—unconcerned about self-incrimination—was available and willing to register in behalf of the party.

CAPITAL QUOTES Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz: "Lack of job skills should be set at 90 per cent.

'Ignorant of Problem's'

Raps American Aid Offer For Malaysia, Singapore

SINGAPORE (AP) — Americans are ignorant of problems in Malaysia and Singapore, says Singapore's prime minister, and should leave them to Britain and its Commonwealth associates.

Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew was referring to reports that the United States may offer assistance, possibly of a military nature, to Singapore's neighbor Malaysia. Britain also is discussing possible changes in its military responsibility in the vast area east of Suez, raising the possibility the United States may feel it necessary to assume a more active role in the area.

The 53-year-old prime minister, who took this island state out of Malaysia last August under pressure from Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman, told an Associated Press reporter:

"You (Americans) don't know Malaysia. You don't know Singapore. You don't know the history and the habits and the attitudes of these people here."

"The British do know. They governed this place for 150 years. So leave them and leave the Australians and the New Zealanders, and the Tunku will have to deal with them to sort out these problems. They cannot be sorted out by the gun alone."

"The gun, yes, is very necessary when your enemy begins to use guns. Injudicious and indiscriminate use of the gun leads to its complete ineffectiveness."

Singapore is the site of a huge British military base. Singapore and Malaysia are still partners in an undeclared war with Indonesia, which opposed formation of the Malaysian federation.

The prime minister said if the United States should become involved in Malaysian affairs, "I would have to radically reassess my position."

Referring to Malaysia, Lee said, "supposing I get a neighbor with involvement of the nature that the South Vietnamese have with the Americans. I can imagine a very unhappy situation arising."

Lee spoke of Asian countries and politicians as having benefited under American aid programs, and noted that some people say, "well, why not?"

"I'll tell you why not," Lee said, his voice rising. "Because that is the surest way to perdition. Because you then embark on a policy which does not take into account the feelings and aspirations and hopes of your population."

"You live this dream life on top and one day you wake up from that dream and you find what an awful mess you are in."

Split Over Red China Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The leading boosters of Red China for U.N. membership are reported split over what to propose to the General Assembly.

Diplomatic sources said the division had developed among the 11 delegations that got the 117-nation assembly to agree to debate an item calling for "restoration of the lawful rights of the People's Republic of China in the United Nations."

They said Cambodia suggested a resolution proposing to seat Communist China on all U.N. bodies without expelling Nationalist China.

Albania, Red China's chief ally in its feud with the Soviet Union, urged that the resolution call for expulsion of the Chinese Nationalists in favor of the Communists and meet some of Communist China's other conditions for joining the United Nations.

Among the conditions stated by Chinese Communist Foreign Minister Chen Yi Sept. 29 were:

—Withdrawal of the 1951 U.N. resolution condemning Communist China as an aggressor in Korea.

—U.N. condemnation of the United States on that score.

—Expulsion from the United Nations of "imperialist-puppet" countries.

The informants said Cambodia's proposal met with reserve and Albania's with opposition from those of the other nine nations to whom they were presented.

The others are Algeria, Burundi, the Congo (Brazzaville), Cuba, Ghana, Guinea, Mali, Romania and Syria.

A resolution to seat the Chinese Communists while letting the Nationalists remain would probably get more votes than that one that would throw the Nationalists out.

Edison Award For Churchill Recording

AMSTERDAM (AP) — An Edison, the Oscar of the record industry, has been awarded to a recording of speeches by Sir Winston Churchill in the 1918-45 period. His daughter, Mary Soames, received the statuette in the Concertgebouw Hall from Dutch Culture Minister Maarten Vrijljk.

Water Tanks Can Have Eye-Appeal

The nation's new concern with community water supply and the drive to beautify our environment have inspired new, more esthetically attractive versions of the old, familiar "bucket-on-stilts" water storage tanks. Some of them, already in service, are pictured here. There are many other designs. Some, created by Pittsburgh industrial designer Peter Muller-Munk for the American Iron and Steel Institute are quite elaborate, colorfully painted and incorporate observation decks, strolling plazas and even shop and office areas as integral parts of the water storage facility.

This standpipe type of steel tank holds water for East Hampton, Long Island, N.Y. Fluted column has a door giving access to equipment storage area.

Nearly five million gallons of water are stored in this flat, ground-supported tank in a Spokane, Wash., park area. Fluted steel ribs on exterior give added strength and provide artistically interesting shadow effects.

Containers of this tank, elevated on three legs, hold 750,000 gallons for residents of Carbondale, Ill., and nearby Southern Illinois University.

TV Wire Tap Show Interesting

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television — Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Nobody is safe; nobody is sacred," said narrator Robert MacNeil Sunday night, and he was talking about eavesdropping, the electronic kind.

Listening devices today are so sophisticated, wiretapping is so subtle and a special kind of espionage is so widespread that MacNeil, in NBC's alarming documentary, "The Big Ear," asked: "May we not become a society where people are afraid to speak freely?"

One Beverly Hills lawyer is so conscious of assorted efforts to "preserve a conversation," as one practitioner called his specialty, that he hired private counterespionage agents to search out hidden microphones that might have been planted in his private office.

The de-bugging team, seen in action, checked under the desk, in furniture upholstery, in the base of cigarette lighters, even under the backing of paintings on the wall for concealed microphones.

The practice may be widespread but it hardly is new. One former Army intelligence man told of keeping tabs in 1943 on scientists working on the atom bomb and even of tapping hotel rooms and suites in Chicago occupied by Eleanor Roosevelt.

Not all wiretapping is concerned with law enforcement, spy hunts and marital derelictions. It is also used in business competition and even against employees.

It was an interesting program — and an alarming one. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., appeared briefly to suggest stricter laws governing wiretapping.

ABC's "Jimmy Durante Meets the Lively Arts" turned out just about as one would expect from the title. Fine serious performers like Rudolf Nureyev and Roberto Peters were permitted to do some interesting singing and dancing, but there was, of course, a mandatory period of clowning with the star.

There was nothing in the program that was unexpected.

World News In Brief

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israel has denied a Jordanian claim that five Israeli soldiers were killed and six injured Sunday in the second border clash in two days.

An Israeli military spokesman also said no equipment was destroyed in the fighting at Latroun, a no-man's land 18 miles south of Tel Aviv.

A Jordanian military spokesman claimed one Israeli 106mm gun, two antitank guns, one three-ton truck and three tractors were destroyed. There were no Jordanian losses, he added.

The clash ended when U.N. observers ordered a cease-fire. The Jordanian spokesman said both sides claim plowing rights to the land.

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's national railways began operating the world's fastest train service today, a 322-mile run from Tokyo to Osaka at an average of 103 miles an hour.

At the museum, Armstrong reached for the first horn he ever blew and hugged Peter Davis, his first music teacher. Armstrong said he considers his hometown the mother of jazz.

ALBANY, Ore. (AP) — Pianist-comedian Victor Borge escaped injury in an auto collision early Sunday on U.S. 99 north of Albany.

Borge was heading for Portland from Eugene, Ore., where he performed at a University of Oregon homecoming dance.

Oregon state police said the 54-year-old Borge's car was destroyed when it collided with another car which had slowed to avoid another accident.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Queen Anne Marie of Greece has arrived in Copenhagen with her infant daughter, Crown Princess Alexia, to visit the queen's parents, King Frederick and Queen Ingrid of Denmark.

Also on hand were Anne Marie's sisters and an uncle.
